NEW DISPLAY HOMES LAUNCHED AT BUSHMEAD ESTATE

Cedar Woods is launching 14 stunning new display homes for the public to explore during Bushmead's Big Arvo Out on Sunday, November 8th.

The event will give prospective home-buyers the opportunity to get a hands-on look at the new home designs on offer at Bushmead – a Cedar Woods development located 16km east of the Perth CBD, surrounded by parks, nature trails and 185ha of natural bushland.

The display homes boast both double and single story designs built by WA's leading home builders, in a modern community shaped by nature.

Event attendees will be entertained with live music and enjoy a variety of food trucks, while the kids are entertained with endless free activities and games.

Sample locally sourced products from the Kalamunda Hills and the Swan Valley including chocolate, honey, nougat and soaps, through a discovery trail leading through the display homes – a great way to explore everything Bushmead has to offer.

WA State Manager for Cedar Woods, Ben Rosser, said Bushmead's Big Arvo Out was set to be a fun afternoon and a great opportunity for people looking to start their building journey.

"Bushmead's Big Arvo Out will be a great way for people looking to build in the area to see and feel exactly what the community has to offer and to get inspired by new home designs, plus the free outdoor activities and games will be perfect for families," Mr Rosser said.

"The display village will showcase 14 brand new display homes from WA's leading builders including TERRACE, Celebration Homes, Homegroup WA, Cedar Homes, Content Living, GO Homes and Dale Alcock Homes."

"Attendees will receive a Bushmead showbag on arrival and collect a free mini sample of delectable locally sourced products from each home they visit."

Bushmead's Big Arvo Out is on Sunday, November 8th from 1pm – 5pm and located on the corner of Ashgrove Entrance and Northgate Promenade, Bushmead.
